WHAT'S ON THIS WEEK.....

Catch up / Recap Week

Catch up and the recap of crucial knowledge learning. Teachers will still be online as per their timetable but just as a check in and to guide them to the tasks or offer the support where needed.

Have a great half term and STAY SAFE!!!

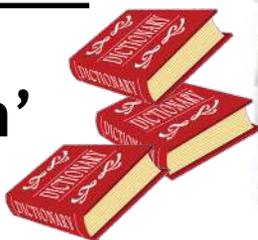

Word of the Week from Dictionary Dee

'paradigm'

noun

a typical example or pattern of something; a pattern or model.

For no other reason other than to show a gratuitous image of Mr Beckham...

Handsome, skilled and kind,
David Beckham is the paradigm of the perfect man.

In Computer Science

Mr Kelsall's programming

paradigm has taken the computer world by storm.

English Stars of the Week

KM: Izzy Boughy (11P) for her consistent effort to improve her current work grade. Mrs Melvin is dead proud!

DS: Film Studies: Kasey Tidyman (11AW) never fails to miss a lesson and completes work to the best of her ability. Really showing huge improvements in her grade.

English: Nathan Hulme (8HM) - he is attentive, works hard and is always willing to volunteer an answer. He could easily be the star every week for Mr Worth!

KDR: Lucy Peers (11MP) for constantly working hard and contributing amazing answers in both English and film studies this week.

EW: Thomas Smith (9EW), who works incredibly hard in all of his live lessons, and has produced amazing work on Macbeth.

KW: Hope Lycett (8HB) - always tries her best in every lesson.

GA: Archie Brownsword (10DS) for fantastic participation in the live lessons and being an all-round good egg. He is always willing to get involved and tries his best in everything he does. Well done Archie!

AE: Roman Lockett (9AR). Willingness to contribute and a good work ethic. Well done, Roman

Rhiannon's Reading Recommendations

Mr Powell's Book Recommendations!

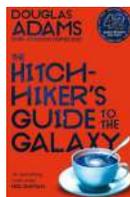

"Things to Make and Do in the Fourth Dimension" by Matt Parker. Matt Parker is an Australian comedian who used to teach Math. As a result, he speaks openly about how boring Maths education can be. In his series of books, he revisits simple concepts that all teenagers remember from school through a series of real-life historical applications, games and puzzles and almost random uses that invite the reader to question everyday practices. This isn't a textbook, it's a conversation about why pirates argued about the best type of pyramid to stack their cannonballs in, about why your cutting your pizzas incorrectly, and why NASA hide a document containing the first 10 million digits of $\sqrt{2}$ on their website. See also "Humble Pi: A comedy of Math Errors" by the same author.

Mr Powell & Mr Kelsall's Book Recommendations!

The HitchHiker's Guide to the Galaxy.

Mr Powell said- If 'dad humour' was a book, it would be this. It is a four-part trilogy. If Mr Kelsall and Mr Mackin had a conversation about the meaning of life, this book would be the outcome. Very funny, very Sci-Fu yet oddly philosophical.

Mr Kelsall said- Follows the mishaps of Arthur Dent as one Thursday lunchtime Earth is unexpectedly demolished to make way for a new hyperspace bypass starting his intergalactic adventures involving a computer calculating the answer to the question "What is the meaning of life?"...

Miss Owen's Book Recommendation!

The book Miss Owen has chosen is the play script 'Blood Brothers,' by Willy Russell. It is such an amazing play and is set in one of her favourite cities, Liverpool! The story takes you on an emotional rollercoaster whilst dealing with some really tough social issues. It is also our set text at GCSE.

Here are a couple of books Miss Owen loved as a child (She can't narrow it down to one, these books were both important to Miss Owen!) The Secret Diary of Adrian Mole aged 13 $\frac{3}{4}$ by Sue Townsend. This book was written as a diary and Miss Owen loved writing in my diary as a young teenager. Are you there God? It's me, Margaret by Judy Blume. In this book, the protagonist, Margaret, tackles all the issues girls go through as they come of age whilst trying to decide which religion she should follow.

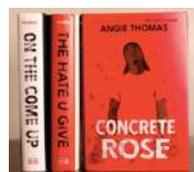

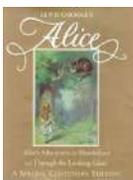

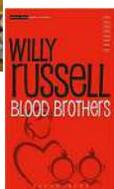

Dawn's Book Recommendations!

My love of reading started from a very young age and I would visit my local library every Saturday morning. I was an avid reader of Enid Blyton's books, I even named my pet dog Scamper from The Secret Seven. I also loved the Mrs Pepperpot Stories and Doctor Dolittle, but my all-time childhood favourite was the strange and crazy world of Alice's Adventures in Wonderland. My High School library had very limited choice so I worked my way through all the Agatha Christie novels and classics, such as Jane Eyre, Rebecca, Black Beauty and Treasure Island. The Bronte's are still a much loved favourite, the Bronte Parsonage Museum at Haworth is a must for any avid fan.

Running CCSC School Library for 17 years has given me access to so many brilliant teenage novels it is really difficult to narrow them down, but the books that have made a lasting impression on me are, Harry Potter by JK Rowling, His Dark Materials Trilogy by Phillip Pullman, Looking For JJ by Anne Cassidy, Private Peaceful by Michael Morpurgo and Rani & Sukh by Bali Rai. Above all others though is Noughts & Crosses by Malorie Blackman, a novel that everyone should read and one that I keep going back to time and time again. A truly inspiring author who we were fortunate to meet at the YTF Book Awards back in 2007. Originally written as a trilogy there are now five in the series. The most recent, Crossfire is centred around current UK and world politics. I have just started to read Concrete Rose by Angie Thomas, the prequel to her phenomenal debut novel The Hate U Give. Angie Thomas and Patrice Lawrence are two recent exciting new talents in the YA book market.

I was always the kind of reader that would get to the end of a book no matter what, but now my advice to you all is, give something a good go but if you are not enjoying it move on, there are far, far too many good books out there!

Breaking news!!! Look out for the launch of our digital library after half term 📖📚

National Apprenticeship Week

This week is National Apprenticeships Week and is an opportunity for all pupils but particularly those in Years 10 and 11 to start looking at some of the brilliant opportunities that are out there.

So...what is an apprenticeship?

Basically, it's a job and you're paid for spending about 80% of your week in a workplace and the other 20% in a place of study e.g. college.

What's more, courses are free as your employer or the Government cover the cost BUT you do need to manage your time well and balance work and study.

Is it just in 'the trades' like building and joinery?

No. There are loads of places that do apprenticeships – here are some examples of Apprenticeships that Newcastle College recently advertised:

- Accounts Clerk
- Swimming Teacher
- Customer Service
- Transport Administrator
- NHS Patient Care Advisor
- E-Commerce
- Nursery Nurse
- Engineering
- Teaching Assistant

MFL CREATIVE CHALLENGES

- Draw/paint/build a model of a famous landmark and write about it
- Create your own MFL Superhero (or super villain ☹)
- Create a cartoon in Spanish/French/Italian (or a mix).
- Make a collage of Flags (countries where Spanish, French & Italian are spoken) and write some crucial vocabulary on them
- Complete an Instagram Family Tree
- An independent creative activity of your own!!

THERE MAY BE PRIZES INVOLVED FOR OUTSTANDING WORK!! ☺

This week's top MFL Kahooters & Blooketters are:

- Y7 Sarah Watt / Alexis Hampton
- Y8 Aafreen Ahmed / Nathan Perry
- Y9 Emily Taylor-Cotton/ Finn Banks-Jones
- Y10 Pagan Barmer/ Lucy Clarke
- Y11- Aysha Yorukoglu, Sydney Lockett, Daisy Wheeler

I asked the Maths team here at CCSC to nominate 1 or 2 pupils from their teaching groups who were repeatedly impressing with their efforts and quality of work. They all agreed that they could have picked 5 or 10 from all their teaching groups. We finally got down to the list below and I have to say, I have been totally overwhelmed by how impressive their work actually is. We have awarded around 50 praise postcards and like I say it could have been more than 300.
