RECOMMENDED READ

The letters went out in mid-February. Each letter invited its recipient to spend a week at Camp So-and-So, a lakeside retreat for girls nestled high in the Staveland Mountains. Each letter came with a glossy brochure with photographs of young women climbing rocks, performing Shakespearean theatre under the stars, and soaking volleyball. Each letter was signed in ink by the famed and reclusive businesswoman and philanthropist, Inge F. Yancey IV.

By the end of the month, twenty-five applications had been completed, signed, and mailed to a post office box in an obscure Appalachian town.

Had any of these girls tried to follow the directions in the brochure and visit the camp for themselves on that day in February, they would have discovered that there was no such town and no such mountain and that no one within a fifty-mile radius had ever heard of Camp So-and-So.

Who was this week's Masked Reader?

France's answer to black mirror. In near-future Paris, two brilliant siblings unveil a high-tech implant designed to pair up soul mates. But the beta test yields unwelcome surprises.

Over the coming weeks, we are going to be looking at what some of the former students of CCSC have gone on to do. This week you can also watch an interview we did with Caitlin. Enjoy. 😊

CCSC Alumni – Celebrating the Success of our Past Pupils

Name: Caitlin Lane-Kosturczak
Dates attended: 2009 – 2014
Primary School: Churchfields Primary School
Qualifications: Btec Level 3 Extended Diploma in Sports and Exercise Science/BSc Sports Therapy
Current Career: Clinical Therapy Apprentice

Since leaving CCSC I have had a few jobs opportunities that have increased my confidence and knowledge within a working environment. My very first job after leaving high school as a Lifeguard at WaterWorld. This job taught me many aspects such as customer care and talking to customers in a professional manner. I stayed at Waterworld for 2 years whilst I was at college trying to juggle college work around my working hours. My second job was at a food restaurant; in this job I gained more knowledge within customer care and dealing with money. Team work and communication were the two main key roles used making sure everything ran smoothly. I was at this job for the first two years at university as I was only in university a couple days a week. I had a break from work in my final year at university as this was the most stressful year trying to complete all my work and dissertation. I then got a job in 2019 as a health care assistant working with residents with dementia and learning disabilities. This job required many responsibilities including assisting residents with everyday activities such as washing and dressing. My most current job now is a clinical therapy apprentice working toward being a physiotherapist within the hospital. This job is now leading me in my career path after all the hard work and dedication in the past 5 years I can now strive to where I want to go next. I hope to now progress to be either a physiotherapist or an occupational therapist.
