Careers Week: Day 1. Fantastic morning so far! Newcastle College The Academy of Hairdressing & Beauty Therapy - Newcastle College. Thanks to Newcastle College who have started our week with taster sessions. More updates later

Careers Week

Careers Week: Day 1. Today was extremely busy with lots of visitors in many classes. We had:

- WJ UK who spent all with some of our Maths and Geography classes
- A representative from the RAF who delivered a workshop to Year 9, 10 and 11
- Higher Horizons+ provided us with various speakers. Trish delivered a talk about Biomedics to Year 11, Laura who talked to both Year 10 and Year 9 about her PhD and Ashleigh who talked to Year 7 about careers in creative writing.
- We had Luke and Hannah (PCSOs) who came in and talked to our GCSE Citizenship classes throughout the day.
- Amy Sargeant (one of our wonderful parents) who came and talked to our Child Development pupils about her career in Child Care.
- Joe from Critical Care who talked to Year 9 Health and Social pupils
- An opt in session with a representative from Douglas Macmillan Hospice who talked about their work
- Past pupils Rhianon, Lilly and Izzy in our Humanities department
- The hair and beauty team from Newcastle College who worked with Year 9, 10 and 11s
- Antonia Parton worked with our GCSE Textiles class and showed them some new techniques
- Last Friday we had Harry and his engineering van from North Staffs Engineering Group work with our Technology pupils across a rota of activities
- We also had Sally Osborne-Town, a magistrate, who came and worked with Mr Young in his Citizenship classes.

This is all added to all of the activities going on in normal lessons. Can't wait for Day 2!

Careers Week: Day 2 - Another fab day today with some visitors delivering sessions once again. We continued with careers focus in lessons but we also had:

- LLS Online who came and delivered sessions with our Year 11 GCSE PE pupils
- Sam Bailey from Stoke City FC came and spoke to Year 11 about potential post-16 pathways. Pupils were engaged in learning about the different opportunities available to them.
- Amy Sargeant came back to us today and worked with Year 9 Child Development groups. She talked about her career path in early years.
- Gary Tideswell from Sanctuary Group and Victoria Hill from Independent Support came and worked with pupils in health and social care.
- Ellie came and worked with Miss White's Year 8 class and talked to them about her career in illustration
- Higher Horizons+ Mark came back today and worked with Year 9 English on Sports Journalism
- Finally, we had Phil Whitehead, a qualified chef who showed Year 11 and then Year 10 Food groups how to prepare, cook and present a three course meal (pics to follow tomorrow).

Tomorrow is our school careers rota day! Lots more activities ahead

Yesterday, Phil Whitehead (a professional chef) spent the day in classes working with our Year 10 and then Year 11 Food groups. He prepared, cooked and presented a three course meal talking them through bit by bit. The pupils really enjoyed the session and will find it useful for their GCSE coursework and exams. Thanks for coming along Phil

Work hard and get noticed!

Community Day has been wonderful. Miss Owen took a group of RMS Leaders to the Salvation Army in Chesterton where they helped wrap presents and then serve drinks and mince pies to the guests of Aspire Housing who were holding a special event attended by many organisations and charities as well as the local Mayor. Pippa B and Lois W also sang 'Oh Holy Night' and 'All I want for Christmas is you,' and received a rapturous applause and lots of lovely comments. All the pupils did us proud as a school and had a great day.

Tournament

The final was a tense match between two players unbeaten up to now in the tournament.

There were some early piece exchanges and Riley gained a material advantage. Unfortunately he couldn't prevent one of Logan's pawns breaking through to become promoted to Queen! From that point on it was difficult for Riley to fight off the attacks. In the end the white king was checkmated meaning the winner of the 2023 Ches Chess Championship is....

DECEMBER WRITING COMPETITION 2023

Because it's the season of giving, we're going to give you an extra choice of what to write this festive season!

You have the choice of writing an acrostic poem that's inspired by the Christmas cheer.

Or you can write a dystopian story in which Christmas doesn't exist anymore.

For example:
Sound numbing,
Nature's blanket,
O' how the children love it,
White as a Christmas Night.

Or

Christmas. That was a word that had long been forgotten, many moons ago, by many people.
But not all.
There was a collective of people who still secretly celebrated the ancient celebration. These people opposed the government's strict regime of no festivities, in order to feed and maintain the government's war machine, now sowing siege on the rest of the galaxy.
That was what humanity had become. Distilled down to a ravenous, all consuming obsession to survive by invading and extinguishing all threatening species.
Yet hope survived.
And it was tonight, on Christmas Eve, that the collective was to meet again...

Refugees are threat to the West says minister

War of words: Home Secretary Suella Braverman's comments sparked a rare rebuke from the UN.

Is it too easy to claim asylum? Suella Braverman dubbed immigration an “existential challenge” in a controversial speech in the US this week. Her words sparked rare criticism from the United Nations itself.

Fish and chips. Marks & Spencer. The Garrick theatre. The Bank of England.

They are some of the most “quintessentially British” things. But all of them were made by refugees. Fish and chips was brought to Britain by Sephardic Jewish refugees. The co-founder of Marks & Spencer, Michael Marks, was a Russian-born Polish refugee. David Garrick, the English actor who gave the Garrick theatre its name, was born to a French Huguenot family. The Bank of England was founded in part by Huguenot refugees.

Of course, there are innumerable other things that refugees have brought to the UK. But some argue that Europe has now lost its faith in multiculturalism. It has been condemned by

The United Nations refugee agency responded that “the refugee convention remains as relevant today as when it was adopted” and condemned the UK’s huge asylum backlog.²

Worries about the situation of refugees in the UK are rampant. Processing centres are hugely overcrowded, whilst the asylum backlog in the UK has increased by 74% in the last year.

Braverman argues that this is because the UK’s systems are crumbling under the weight of a huge influx of refugees. But some say that management is the real problem. Britain has only a tiny percentage of the world’s refugees. Eighty-five percent of refugees globally live in the developing world, not in rich, industrialised countries like the UK.

Braverman’s rhetoric is divisive, but it has appealed to some. A writer in the Telegraph praised her for the claim that “multiculturalism has failed”, citing spates of recent violence between different ethnic and religious groups in Britain. Others believe she is courting far-right groups ahead of a potential bid for party leadership.

Whichever way you look at it, some theorise, we need to build a new culture when it comes to those seeking asylum.

former leaders of the UK, Germany and France as a failure.

A speech by Britain’s home secretary Suella Braverman on Tuesday has further muddled the waters. Taking aim at the UN’s Refugee Convention, she argued that its policies are no longer fit for purpose, alleging that many refugees are fleeing discrimination rather than persecution.¹

Controversially, she added that the fear of discrimination due to being gay or a woman should not be enough to qualify for refugee status.

Is it too easy to claim asylum?

Diversity controversy

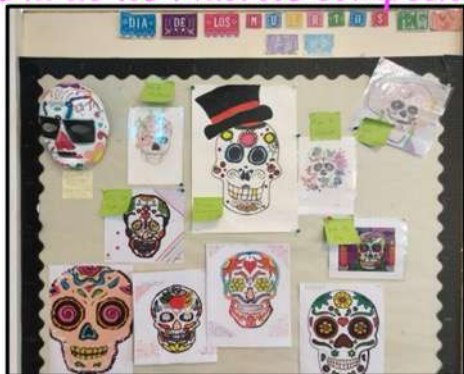

Yes: The UN Refugee Convention refers to “persecution” and so there should be solid evidence of dangerous persecution to make a case for asylum.

No: Nobody chooses to leave their home, their family and their life behind to risk a dangerous and potentially fatal border crossing if they do not have good reason to fear for their lives or wellbeing.

Or... Anyone who claims that life for refugees in the UK is easy is not reading the news. Asylum seekers face more than six months of insecurity, risk being deported to Rwanda and cannot even earn money to sustain themselves.

How to do the trick:

1. Using your right forefinger, touch each finger of your left hand and count loudly, "one, two, three, four, five."
2. Do the same with your left forefinger and the right-hand fingers, "six, seven, eight, nine, and ten."
3. Say something like, "Well, I'm sure I had 11 fingers. Let me try again."
4. Now start counting backward from the left hand, "ten, nine, eight, seven, six".
5. Move to the right hand, "six on that hand, and five fingers on this hand. Total 11!"

Rebirth.

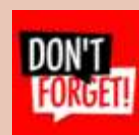

In the Western World many people see the New Year as an opportunity to make changes in their lives by making Resolutions. A sort of "rebirth," another chance to: Improve your moods. Have a healthier lifestyle, Better relationships, Stronger work ethic, Increased motivation. Learn your strengths and weaknesses. Become the best version of yourself.

Set goals	Goals help motivate you and make progress. Divide complex tasks into smaller achievable goals.	This isn't in comparison to others. It's to develop the best version of you.
Write everything down	Consider printing or making a planner. It can save time. Review your improvements and progress made.	It can make you more productive and motivated.
Invest in yourself	Learn new skills. Value your education and opportunities.	Take care of your health and welfare.
Actively search for Hobbies	Start by thinking what you are really interested in.	Try different things. You might surprise yourself.
Focus on Mental Health	Besides Writing about your feelings, Hobbies and Exercise, eat a healthy diet and appreciate the good things in your life.	Avoid drinking, smoking, too much caffeine and poor sleep patterns. Cut out negative influences, behaviour and maybe, friendships.
Get into Fitness	Regular exercise has so many benefits: Improved mood, more alert, boosts your immune system, good for your heart and boosts confidence.	You don't have to join a gym. You could walk more, cycle, swim or use and follow an exercise programme off the internet.
Always educate yourself	Knowledge will unlock so many things for you as a teenager. The more you know the better life you will have now and in the future.	Education isn't just about school. Yes, participate fully at school but read and discuss your opinions. Reflect on what you learn.
Develop a sleep schedule	It is recommended that you get at least 8 hours of sleep whenever possible to feel fully refreshed.	When you sleep is also important. For example, sleeping 8 hours from 10pm-6am is much better than 3am-11am.
Stop getting offended easily	Nowadays, it's almost impossible not to see someone getting offended on the internet. Plus, it's easy to follow along with what you see and read because it feels like the norm.	Be more confident in yourself. Getting offended easily can stem from personal insecurities. Stop listening to negativity or hateful comments.
Practice Self Awareness	Being self-aware will help you to understand your strengths and weaknesses so that you can implement strategies to improve your life.	Can also teach you your interests, career goals, the ability to admit when you are wrong and empathy towards others.
