HOY AWARDS

Y7

Farren Davey

Farren has impressed me these past few weeks. Not only has he worked hard to improve his behaviour and attitude but he has also put himself forward to help out with the Y5 primary days. Long may it continue!

Kaumi Weerasingha

Kaumi is such a hard working member of the year group. She excels in everything she does and is thought of very highly by all of her teachers (and me!) A huge well done.

Y8

Eva Booth

For her hard work, determination and sheer tenacity paying off. I am so proud of you- well done!!

Libby Wagstaff

A marked improvement in her enthusiasm for school life. Lovely to see ♥

Y9

Sam Copeland

Great half term so far.

A top performer amongst the year group for ELs too!! Well done and keep it up!

Logan Wilton

Another pupil who has maintained high standards in their conduct around school. Deserves to be recognised for the number of ELs he has and no CLs! Well done.

Y10

Maisie Woodward

Such a hard working student and a lovely member of our year group. Keep working hard Maisie!

Sebastian Lloyd

Never anything short of brilliant. Absolute star!

Y11

Jake Morrey

For an increased positive attitude to learning, trying really hard in lessons/ exams and improving his punctuality to lessons.

Easter Trip Programme

FREE trips for 12-16 year olds this Easter!
Join us for an adventure and make new friends.
Transport and lunch included.

Wednesday 16 April

Standon Bowers Outdoor Education Centre

This unique day combines adventure, personal growth, and fun through two carousel activities. Groups will alternate between a 1.5-hour High Ropes Adventure and a Bushcraft session.

The activity concludes with toasting marshmallows around a campfire.

Children need to meet at Newcastle-under-Lyme College – mini bus will depart at 9am so please arrive early to sign in. The children will be transported to Standon Bowers Outdoor Education Centre. We recommend wearing comfortable clothing (trousers and T-Shirt/Jumper, no open toe shoes) for this activity.

Each child will receive a hot meal from Standon Bowers. We encourage to bring plenty of water.

Please note: this is a programme for children only. Parents and Carers are not permitted to attend. This trip is exclusively for children aged 12-16 years old.

Book now at eequ.org and search 'Bee Active' or scan the QR code

We welcomed our wonderful Year 8 pupils and parents for their Options Evening. It was a really busy but productive night in preparation for their next steps. Thanks to all who attended. Deadline for forms is Monday 31st March

Big praise to 8/4R.E
I am absolutely amazed with their work this term, well done.
Mrs Williams

Last week, four of our students were invited to take part in the inaugural Healthcare Careers Week hosted by University Hospitals of North Midlands NHS Trust at The Royal Stoke University Hospital.

Over the course of the week students had the opportunity to have a tour of the hospital, hear from staff about their careers and see their roles first hand, find out about patient care and the importance of the 6C's, learn basic first aid and good infection control.

The opportunity will allow these students to consider the various career pathways available in the NHS and strengthen their Health & Social Care studies.

A huge thank you to the Healthcare Careers and Skills Academy along with the wider team at UHNM for providing such an insightful experience for our students.

purple day

Wear it PURPLE

WORLD EPILEPSY DAY

Purple day is a day where people raise money and wear purple. This is to help or raise money for people with epilepsy.

Epilepsy — also known as a seizure disorder — is a brain condition that causes recurring seizures. There are many types of epilepsy. In some people, the cause can be identified. In others, the cause is not known.

There are many ways to celebrate you might walk a mile a day to help raise money or wear purple on the 26th of march make a purple bracelet of some sort or make a post out to any one or just a post so people don't feel alone.

If you want to learn more please click the links
<https://www.epilepsy.org.uk/involved/fundraising/purple-day>
<https://www.awarenessdays.com/awareness-days-calendar/purple-day-2025/>

Mia Hughes in Year 7 has kindly asked to bring our attention to Purple day and support her and others where possible.

It is a charity that supports Epilepsy and "It would mean a lot if to her as it effects her massively"

Miss Mendez

Really nice and always listens to what what you have to say

thank you

Miss Parton

So nice always smiling and even smiling when shouting .

thank you

Mr Horner

Mr Horner is honestly the best teacher anyone could ask for. He's so helpful and comes up with ways to make everyone's learning better thank you sir!

Miss Mooney

She is one of the kindest English teachers out there! Every single lesson, she compliments my work and how much effort I put into the lesson. She gives me several event logs most lesson which makes me more motivated to try my best!

Thank you Miss Mooney

Mr. Morgan

Mr. Morgan always helps me when I am not sure about something and even when I do something wrong he tells me how to improve and go above and beyond.
Thanks

Thank a teacher

From your lovely feedback last year parents and students have suggested a way to nominate a teacher to recognise them for an act of kindness, support or hard work.

If any student or parent would like to anomalously recognise a teacher then please use the link to fill out the form.

Greek gods show hailed as masterpiece.

Are the Greek myths relevant today? Kaos imagines the gods of Olympus in command of the modern world and facing a crisis in their relationship with humans.

“Mortals, I made you,” declares Zeus, the all-powerful king of the gods. “And this is how you repay me!” Viewing TV footage of a hurricane with delight, he adds: “We need to make destruction really sing!”

Welcome to the wild, highly entertaining world of Kaos.

The drama, which was launched on Thursday, has had rave reviews. Some people have already watched all eight hours of it — though sadly you have to be 15 to view it.

In episode one, Zeus finds a wrinkle on his forehead which reminds him of a terrifying prophecy. It says that his reign will end and chaos will consume the world instead.

As a result he becomes increasingly paranoid and destructive.

Meanwhile, his enemy Prometheus — played by Stephen Dillane — is plotting to make the prophecy come true. His scheme makes use both of humans and of the ghosts in the underworld.

The humans include Orpheus and Riddy. In the original myth, Orpheus is a brilliant musician who journeys into the underworld to bring his wife Eurydice back from the dead.

No: They belong to an age of superstition. The world was a very different place when people believed that thunderbolts were signs of Zeus’s anger instead of recognising them as natural events.

In Kaos, Orpheus (Killian Scott) is presented as a world-famous rock star whose girlfriend (Aurora Perrineau) is killed in a car crash.

The series is written by the actress Charlie Covell. Her script, according to Lucy Mangan in The Guardian, is “subtle and intricate, witty, rigorous, hugely intelligent, funny and brutal”.

Adapting myths for the modern day is by no means a new idea. James Joyce’s ground-breaking novel Ulysses is one example. It takes the story of the Greek hero’s long journey home from Troy and sets it in 20th Century Dublin instead.

The recent musical Hades Town is another retelling of the Orpheus legend, though this time the story is set among the American poor.

Last year the BBC radio broadcast Mahabharata Now, a modern-day drama based on the Indian epic.

Are the Greek myths relevant today?

Zeus nuisance

Yes: As Charlie Covell notes, they are “about timeless things like love and power and death and dysfunctional families”. We may not believe in gods any more, but we have all felt at the mercy of powers which are beyond our control.

Or... There are only a handful of basic stories that humans tell — the person who returns from the underworld like Orpheus being one. So it is not surprising that myths are retold in different forms.

English Stars of the Week!

Miss Mooney: Izaak Colclough – Excellent behaviour and participation in lesson. Well done.	Miss White: Megan Cartwright – Works so hard in every single lesson, always striving to improve her work and do the best she can 😊
Mrs Parton: Harrison Wright- has really impressed me with his contribution to classroom discussions. His subject knowledge has improved massively! A wonderful change in attitude. Well done, Harrison!!	Mrs Thompson: Leeroy Robinson – he has impressed me this week with his enthusiasm and work ethic. The class are reading the play script Face and Leeroy's research, particularly on Simon Weston, was fantastic; comparing how real life people have faced prejudice and challenges to the character, Martin.
Mrs Allen: Oliver Parker – for his fantastic contribution to lessons this week. Well done!	Miss Egan: Damian Hassall - he has been fab this week and worked his socks off. It's been lovely to see what he is capable of xx
Miss Durant: Daisy Boo Buxton for her fab effort in her Macbeth assessment. Daisy has shown such a solid work ethic and completed work in her own time. Well done! ❤️	Mrs Melvin: Oliver Wright for showing a much better attitude to learning helped by the decent mock grade achieved in English. Keep this momentum going, Oliver Ernest Wright! a person's moral sense of right and wrong, viewed as acting as a guide to one's behaviour.

The concept of "conscience", as commonly used in its moral sense, is the inherent (something you are born with) ability of every healthy human being to perceive what is right and what is wrong and, on the strength of this perception, to control, monitor, evaluate and execute their actions.

Psychopaths are classified as people with little or no conscience but are able to follow social conventions when it suits their needs. Sociopaths have a limited, albeit weak, ability to feel empathy and remorse.

Conscience development has its origins in infancy, when the sanctions (and rewards) of adults in response to the child's actions have emotional and behavioural consequences. Children as young as 2 years demonstrate a clear appreciation of their wrongdoings, whereas by 3 years of age they begin to show distress reactions (e.g., bodily tension) and other guilt-like behaviours (e.g., gaze avoidance) following transgressions occurring in their everyday lives. Young children also have a natural sense of justice. A fully developed sense of morality and the part it plays across wider society does not emerge until adolescence or later.

The age of criminal responsibility in England, Wales and Northern Ireland is 10-years-old (Crime and Disorder Act 1998, Criminal Justice (Northern Ireland) Order 1998).

Several factors can contribute to a claim of diminished responsibility in Law. These may include: Mental Disorders: Psychological conditions such as schizophrenia or bipolar disorder can impair judgment, and Intoxication: Being under the influence of drugs or alcohol can significantly affect mental capacity.

Listening to your conscience helps you to make choices that are not only personally satisfying but also ethically sound. It makes you happier as it frees you from guilt and can boost your own feelings of self-worth. It also pleases others who care for you. It encourages self-reflection, emotional awareness, and consideration of the broader impact of your actions, ultimately leading to a more fulfilling and responsible life. This in turn benefits society as a whole and makes the world a better place for everyone.
