Dear Queen Elizabeth I,

My name is Ellie-May Barnett, I am a year 8 pupil who goes to Chasterton community sports college and I think you should because it would be cool to meet a famous person especially the queen of England. You have inspired me to try and achieve my goals. I would love to see you one day. You have helped over 600 charities, professional bodies and public service organisations. It would be really really good to learn from you because you have done so many good things especially because you ruled a country that is a massive achievement. You could help us with history and tell us about past kings and queens that were before you and tell us about their experience.

I think you should visit because I think everyone will enjoy seeing you and

HOY AWARDS

Y7

Bambi Theopistou

For exceptional behaviour and outstanding effort in lessons. Well done 😊

Jack Wright

For fantastic effort in lessons resulting in some amazing work. Well done! 😊

Y8

Lucy Bagguley

For being an absolute super star at Alton Towers. She showed kindness, respect and a real sense of maturity, all with a BIG smile on her face!

Noel Garside

He has had an absolute blinder of a term. He is a wonderful role model for his peers and embodies the values of our school. Well done, Noel!

Y9

Ava Jones

Much better personal organisation and showing that she wants to do well. Great approach during this half term. Let's make this the norm!!

Ella Waters

Started the half term with a poor approach, picking up CLs and standards falling. Really switched it around in the last couple of weeks. Well done!

Y10

Freddie Fell

I have chosen Freddie this for my HOY star this week for his delightful personality. He always says hello or "alright miss" when I see him and is polite always. A credit to our year group!

Teagan Goodwin

Teagan has impressed me over the last half term. Working hard and showing what she is capable of. It is lovely to see!

Y11

All of Year 11

For being absolutely amazing on their rewards day. I am incredibly proud and will be very sad to say goodbye in 6 weeks time.

Year 11 the web link to order the leavers' hoodies is now live. This link and a copy of the flyer has been sent out to parents this afternoon. The closing date is 2nd May 2025.

<https://smartuniform.co.uk/product/chesterton-leavers-hoodies/>

Please order direct using this web link, all orders will be delivered to school at the beginning of June. The cost is £20, add an extra £3 for personalisation. There are a wide variety of colours to choose from. I have sample sizes in the library if you wish to try these on after half term.

Remember, the names of the whole year group will go inside the '25' logo. This will be your full name as per isams unless you tell me otherwise e.g. Jessica> Jess and any preferences with double-barrelled surnames.

On Tuesday 8th April, the RMS Leaders hosted a community coffee morning. Visitors included local care home residents, family members and the local MP, Adam Jogee. Everybody enjoyed the morning, there was plenty of cake, a game of bingo and the amazing singing talents of Lois W and Pippa B.

Our Year 9 pupils have spent the week travelling through history on a mathematical journey across Ancient Greece, Renaissance Italy, the House of Wisdom, and Ancient Egypt! They tackled logic, geometry, algebra, and real-world problem-solving inspired by some of the greatest civilisations in history. A huge well done to all involved—and special congrats to Chase, Harvey, Logan and Dominic, our top-scoring team!

As a thank you for all of their hard work with Year 5 primaries over this half term, Miss Weston organised a rewards breakfast for her Primary Ambassadors this morning. Their help has been very much appreciated - we can see you all as leaders of the future! Well done everyone and thanks so much

Miss Wedgwood

She is amazing English teacher if you need help just ask here and wen you upset she ask if you ok
She is the best teacher for English

thank you

Miss Corn

When you need help in class she can help you without telling you the exact answer. She always has a way to help you without telling you the proper answer. Miss Corn is a really nice teacher and is really kind and helpful.

Miss Corn

For always being there for me if I need help or I'm struggling she is my role model

Miss Evans

I struggle with a lot of stuff and when I need someone to talk to she is always there she is always super kind and amazing and by far MY personally favourite teacher

Mrs Shareef

Mrs Shareef is really nice in lessons and she always tries her hardest to help with our work when we are struggling. She always sets fun tasks and practicals. She also tries really hard to be friends with the students in our class and treats us with respect.

Thank you so much for your hard work xx 😊

Thank a teacher

From your lovely feedback last year parents and students have suggested a way to nominate a teacher to recognise them for an act of kindness, support or hard work.

If any student or parent would like to anomalously recognise a teacher then please use the link to fill out the form.

How mobile phones have changed our brains

Can technology alter our minds? From video games to virtual reality, technology has become an increasingly pervasive part of our lives. But what effect does this digital revolution have on our thinking?

In the 1960s and 1970s, scientists discovered that lead in fuel was linked to poor cognitive performance in children. Soon, countries around the world began to ban it. Now, nearly 16 years on from the launch of the iPhone, some argue that we need new laws to tackle mobile phone usage.

Can technology alter our minds?

Mobile mindset

Yes: Technology can alter our minds by changing the way we think, behave, and perceive the world around us. And excessive use of technology can have negative effects on our wellbeing.

No: Technology alone cannot alter our minds. Our brains have the capacity to adapt and change to our environment. We have the power to regulate our use of technology and control any potential negative impacts.

Or... While some technologies can enhance our cognitive abilities and improve our quality of life, others can lead to addiction, distractibility, and cognitive overload. It is important to find a balance.

9.15am. A message from your grandma. 9.19am. Your friend just posted on Instagram. 9.26am. Your sister reacted to your BeReal. 9.28am. A new episode of your favourite podcast is available to download now.

The average American adult checks their phone 344 times every day — or roughly once every four minutes. Now, experts in psychology, neuroscience, technology and more are asking: what is this doing to our minds?

We have known for many years that the human brain is highly adaptable. Many experts believe that technology can influence our thinking patterns and behaviours.

Some argue that technology can improve our cognitive abilities by providing new opportunities for learning, creativity and social interaction. For example, online education platforms have gamified the learning of languages, while social media can help people connect with others who share their interests.

However, excessive screen time and social media use can also have negative consequences for mental health, such as increased anxiety, depression and loneliness. One recent report found that adults in the US spend almost three hours a day on their devices.

Meanwhile, one study showed that just having your phone in the same room as you reduced the ability to process and remember information.

English Stars of the Week!

Miss Mooney: Ellenor Hobson – Ellenor always put in lots of effort in her English work and is just a delight to have in the classroom.	Miss White: Dan Austin-Ryles, for his fantastic effort in our most recent assessment. Well done Dan 😊
Mrs Allen: Harry Lea – really impressive attitude in lessons this week. Harry clearly wants to do well and it shows. Well done 😊 xxx	Mrs Wedgwood: Jack Sadler – Jack has really improved his work ethic this week, he has been impressing me with his knowledge of Macbeth and has been contributing to class discussions too! 😊
Mrs Parton: Josh Jackson (7.4) - he has worked so hard this week to complete all of his work. There has been a massive improvement with Josh's attitude and enthusiasm in lessons. Well done!!!	Miss Durant: Lauren Trevor - for her consistent fantastic work ethic. Lauren works her socks off in every lesson and is constantly striving to achieve more. All of her hard work is paying off, as she has gone up by a grade in the last few months. Well done, Lauren!
Miss Egan: Lewis Shaw for his AMAZING newspaper article containing loads of DAFORREST!	Mrs Melvin: Connor Barker for his mature approach to the creative writing task this week. A resilient and dedicated effort. Proud Melv.

Safety

Safety is the condition of being protected from or unlikely to cause danger, risk, or injury. The word 'safety' entered the English language in the 14th century. It is derived from Latin salvus, meaning uninjured, in good health.

It is important to realise that safety is relative. Eliminating all risks from every aspect of our lives if even possible, would be extremely difficult and very expensive. So, a safe situation is generally accepted as one where risks of injury or property damage are low and manageable by applying control (safety) measures.

In other words when something is called safe, this usually means that it is safe within certain reasonable limits and parameters. For example, a medication may be safe, for most people, under most circumstances, if taken in a certain amount.

- General Safety for young people:
- Be aware of your surroundings and avoid risky situations.
 - Never accept lifts or gifts from strangers.
 - Walk or travel with a friend.
 - Trust your instincts and walk away if necessary.
 - Carry a phone and keep it charged. Know emergency contact numbers
 - Wear a helmet when biking or skateboarding.
 - Learn to swim.
 - Always wear a seatbelt when riding in a car.
 - Stay away from drugs and alcohol.
 - Know your limits. Seek help if you need it.

- Online Safety:
- Be cautious about who you talk to online.
 - Don't share personal information online.
 - Create strong passwords:
 - Use age appropriate controls.
 - Be aware of cyberbullying.
 - Be respectful to others online.
 - Manage your screen time.
 - Be critical of what you see online.
 - Report suspicious activity to a trusted adult.
